Recognition Intellectual Property

Once again, WTR 1000 has recognized BMA's Intellectual Property practice and practitioners!

The publication highlights firms and professionals that play a significant role in developing and implementing brand strategies for clients in both global and local markets, and in trademark protection.

"They are a well-regarded, efficient and effective firm, who can be trusted with any client matter...They undoubtedly stand out in the Brazilian market for their diligence, frequent reporting of status and untiring efforts to achieve the goals patrons set for them"

"They are well organised, highly professional and also extremely personable, establishing and maintaining long-term relationships built on friendship, in addition to work and trust.", highlighted the guide about us.

Our partners Antonella Carminatti and Pedro Barroso, along with attorney Pedro Tavares, were singled out for their exceptional work over the past year.

WTR's research involves in-depth interviews with both lawyers and clients, along with a comprehensive review of firms' and companies' activities.

Congratulations to our entire IP team on this well-deserved recognition!
