Women in Business Law, published by Expert Guides, lists top women practitioners in business law around the world, and once again, our partners Antonella Carminatti (Trademarks/Copyrights), Barbara Rosenberg (Competition and Antitrust), Monique Mavignier (Corporate/M&A) and Vivian Casanova (Tax) have been recognized for the excellence of their work.

The 12th edition of the guide surveyed more than 10,000 professionals in 90 jurisdictions in order to arrive at its results. The survey considered criteria such as experience, legal knowledge, reputation, innovation and contributions to the development of each practitioner's area.

We are proud of this achievement by our women partners and the leadership they show, not only in their own practice areas but in other sectors within BMA. Recognition like this is enormously satisfying because it gives even more visibility to the work done by exceptional women around the world.

At BMA, in addition to their brilliant work in the firm's leadership, our women partners encourage the development and empowerment of other women in the firm, through our BMA Women program and more recently our Mentorship Program, which supports the growth of new generations of women at BMA.
